OBSERVATIONS

COMMENDABLE CAMPAIGN.
The great Educational Whirlwind has reached the county and the last three days of the week will be spent in booming the cause of Education in the county. The speakers on the program are men who have spent their lives in educational work, and are thoroughly competent to handle the important charge given them, and those who attend the meeting will find that no time has been lost and that they will profit by the interesting lectures delivered by the able speakers.

That Kentucky is behind her sister states in an educational way, we had as well admit to ourselves. The fault is one that admits of remedy, and the condition can be bettered. The only way however, is to arouse public sentiment in favor of educational reform, so that the educational standard of the State may be raised. While educational advantages may not be equal to those of other states, it is not in this fault lies, but in the way our schools are patronized. Better buildings and better teachers cannot remedy this, but there must be some way to reach the general public in order to arouse general interest. Teachers' meetings held at various places in the county, have a certain forbidding nature to them, as they are regarded by the public as solely for teachers and persons, and not attend because of the fear of their not being welcome, and moreover they are usually very attractive.

The Educational campaign, however, is better designed to meet the end for which it was intended than any means yet made use of. It is in itself interesting and is a grand rally, attractive to young and old.

Attendance will greatly aid in making the educational movement a success, and all who attend the meeting will find that they spend well a most enjoyable one.

ROPS AND LABOR.—The continued rains for the past few weeks have resulted in many farmers being confronted with weedy corn fields and tobacco patches, and because of the scarcity of labor, many of them will have no little task in catching up with their work. The wheat harvest has been delayed by the rains for several days and consequently the weeds have had a growing chance in tobacco patches and corn fields. However, as most of the land has been well cultivated before the rains, few crops are damaged. Farmers have found considerable difficulty in securing labor, and the farmer who had an eye to the future, during the past winter in the majority of cases being lucky man. A few years ago a laborer could be found during any season of the year for the price of fifty cents per day, but that time is past. More acreage is cultivated and the demand for labor is greater than the supply, consequently there will be a busy time on the farm for several weeks.

SHEEP.—The Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station of Kentucky in one of its bulletins says that the number of scabby sheep going into the market is constantly increasing and to such an extent as to cause the authorities of the Inspection Division at Washington, D. C., to consider the necessity of quarantining the State unless the trouble is abated. It is one of the oldest diseases of sheep and is very communicable. The Federal Government has been making great efforts to stamp out the disease, and has succeeded in greatly reducing the number of scabby sheep. There are some states where the disease does not exist, and it would bring much profit to Kentucky, if the disease could be eradicated. While the disease is very communicable it yields readily to treatment and a number of clips are recommended, by the Experiment station at Lexington, which if used by all sheep raisers of the State, would soon stamp out the disease, to the great profit of the State.

A Truth Well Stated.

A whole volume of sound sense is compressed into a few words by President Pinley of the Southern Railway, in his address to the students of the University of North Carolina. Among other things he said:

"In what career the young man of the South may select, he will find opportunities at home among his own people. He will not find it necessary to go either to the North or to the West. As time goes on, he will find these opportunities in increasing abundance, for the economic strength of the South, already great, is constantly increasing."

"The wealth of our section in natural resources is better supported by the financial strength and Southern commercial enterprises are becoming better able to finance their own enterprises and less dependent on outside capital."

"The South needs every one of her young men, and those who are faithful to her she will bountifully reward."

Great as has been the growth of the South, that section is only at the beginning of its career of development. The South is not overcrowded with population, and can for many years yet furnish opportunities for all who earnestly seek them. Particular danger from outside invasion and other leaders of industry are almost unanimous in predicting that the greatest development of the next two decades in this country will occur in the South—Washington Post.

Life 100,000 Years Ago.

Scientists have found in a cave in Switzerland bones of men, who lived 100,000 years ago, when life was almost entirely different from what it is today. The discovery, as shown by A. W. Brown of Alexandria, Mo., is largely from a single tooth and skull. To cure sore lungs, colds, obstinate coughs, and prevent pneumonia, is the best medicine on earth. 50c and $1.00. Guaranteed by Hayden & Robertson. Trial bottle free.

Fear of Disease From Food.

Much allegation has been made by assumed authorities of general unwholesomeness of dairy products, particularly milk, because they all contain bacteria and quite may contain the germs of tuberculosis. These charges might just as reasonably be made against all classes of food products. Every thing that we eat and drink contains bacteria; nothing of this nature can be exposed to the air for a minute without receiving a sprinkling of bacteria of various kinds. Most of these are in no way injurious to health; a few are dangerous. There is no good end to be gained by cautioning people to avoid eating things containing bacteria. They cannot avoid it. Neither is there any reason why dairy products should be set apart for particular invective, simply because they are among a large class of foods that are more likely than some others to carry disease germs.

It has been definitely proved that a housefly by alighting upon an article of food with its feet, abstracted from some stagnant pool can communicate typhoid fever through this contaminated food. Where then is the line to be drawn between safe and dan-

Fair View.

Mr. Lester Hardisty, Miss Mamie Daly and Mattie Hawkins of Louisville, died with Mrs. F. M. Scurry Tuesday.

Mrs. John Hardisty is on the sick list.

Sees Mother Grow Young
"It would be hard to overstate the wonderful change in my mother since she began to use Electric Bitters," writes Mrs. W. L. Filpatrick of Danville, Mo. "Although past 30 she seems really to be growing young again. She suffered until misery from dyspepsia for 20 years. At last she could not eat, drink nor sleep. Dietaries gave her up and all remedies failed till Electric Bitters worked such wonders for her health." They induced regular bowels, cure liver and kidney troubles, induce sleep, impart strength and appetite. Only 50c at Hayden & Robertson's.

Rare Relic.

Mr. A. B. Rue has just returned from a week's tour around Mesquite, Washington county, where he has been photographing some of the beautiful views and houses. While absent he spent the night with Mr. Joseph Thompson and family, one of the well known citizens of that section. Mr. Thompson has many interesting relics of the Revolutionary War and the War of 1812, among them an old sword carried by his grandfather, or when he fought the British for the independence of the United States. This grandfather, now lies with his family in the old Thompson burying ground, but the plowshare has been hallowed so closely on the sacred spot that Mr. Thompson says he is going to have all the remains buried in the family cemetery, disinterred in the near future and brought to Harbardsburg for reburial.—Harbardsburg Herald.

Lived 152 Years.

Wm. Part, England's oldest, married the third time at 120, worked in the fields till 132 and lived 20 years longer. People should be youthful at 80, says James Wright of Sparlark, Ky. shows how to remain young. "I feel just like a sixteen year old boy," he writes, "after taking bottles of Electric Bitters. For thirty years kidney trouble made life a burden, but the first bottle of this wonderful medicine convinced me I could not live without it. They're a godsend to weak, sickly old men or old people. Try them. 50c a bottle. Hayden & Robertson, Danville, Ky."

Judge Fields Will Probated

The will of Judge Emmet Fields was probated Friday in the Jefferson county court. It is a very brief document and all of his property, with the exception of his law library, is left to his son, William H. Fields, who is named executor. It is requested that no inventory of the estate be made.—Louisville Herald.

Cautious Admiral Sperry.
Admiral Sperry would not allow any "international" pugilism while his feet were in America. When he was in his sport in 1912 in London he discovered that the honor of nation is involved. In the old days the warring of America and Britain was settled by the sword for little encomiums. And old Sperry noted that there was no sense in these affairs, holding that the men of the two services were "whelps of the same breed" who would be "freed" themselves up a "Mr.
Admiral Sperry may have heard this theory and accepted it, but he was not disposed to take chances. Argonaut.

that the New England guest, resting in the C. & E. hotel, a messenger of bad news. "What is the world this morning doing on quarter?" he demanded.
"Not, said the clerk, as he slammed the book and turned toward the stairs. "It's the spring bed up in No.
5. That bedstead is too old, and it gets the king of it, and every day he gets one of the solid springs removed into the street. I guess I'll have to give up if there's anything more I can do for you for a few min-

The Road Supervisor, J. R.
Mayes, reports that the recent rains have damaged the pikes and bridges of the county to the extent of several hundred dollars. Several bridges and abutments were washed out and the roads washed badly.

An inquiry was made in the

Price-Rapier
A wedding of unusual interest, because of the prominence of the parties, was that of Mr. Jesse Dawson Rapier, of Bardstown, to Miss Myrtle Kathryn Price, of this place, which occurred on last Tuesday at High Noon at St. Dominic's church. The altar was beautifully decorated with ferns and potted plants. Previous to the entry of the bride party Miss Nancy Simms, in a beautiful voice sang "Just as Long as the World Rolls On." Mendelssohn's wedding march was rendered by an orchestra composed of several young people under the direction of Mrs.
N. G. Marks. The bride and groom entered together and were preceded by the attendants Messrs. John Spalding, Harold Hurst, Alex. Barker and Bu-Lee Smith. They were met at the altar by Rev. Father Hennessy, and the ceremony was performed beneath a white wedding bell suspended from a beautiful arch made of ivy and ferns. During the ceremony the orchestra played "Simple Confessions."

The bride was attractively attired in an Empire White Messeline gown, and wore a Fictu-Hat of White Baby Irish Lace trimmed with Ostreich Agate tears and carried a bouquet of Brides Roses.

Miss Price is a popular and beautiful young lady and numbers her friends by her acquaintances. Mr. Rapier is a young man of sterling worth and great business capacity.

After the ceremony the bride party and a few intimate friends were entertained at luncheon at the home of the bride's parents after which they drove to Lebanon and took the train for a bridal trip to Chicago and other points. On their return they will be at home to their friends at Bardstown, Ky.

Dr. Sutherland Dead Dr. John Sutherland died at his home at Williamsburg, Ky., June 25, of septicemia. The passing of Dr. Sutherland removes from the county one of its oldest and most valued citizens.
He was born February 24, 1826, and had lived most of his life in this county. Several years after he reached his majority he studied medicine and for 45 years practiced his profession in the Williamsburg community. As a physician he conducted himself in such a way as to command the confidence of the people as well as of members of the profession. In 1845 he was married to Miss Ruenn Schenmaker, to which union seven children were born, namely, Dr. H. Sutherland, Mrs. Addie Sharp, Mrs.
Maggie Stonett, J. T. Suther-all of whom survive, except Mrs. Houston, who died in the Splendid Meeting.

The Educational Meeting County Court day was well attended, and demonstrated the fact that Kentucky is not so dead in an educational way as some would have us believe.

Hon. Lafon Allen, of Louisville, was expected to address the crowd but failed to arrive.

Mr. J. W. Bush called the meeting to order, and explained the purpose of the "Whirlwind Campaign." A speech was then delivered by Hon. John W.
Lewis, in which he depicted in a vivid way, the educational condition of the state and in an eloquent appeal urged upon the people necessity of educating their children. Rev. W. H.

Rev. W. H. Williams after which the remains were laid to rest in Williamsburg cemetery.

Jessie Jones, son of Mr. M. H.
Jones, had the misfortune to fall from a horse a few days ago and broke one of the bones of his left arm. A physician was called and set the injured member and he is progressing nicely.

U. D. C. Meets.
The stately southern home, Walker Heights, was in gala colors on Saturday last, when the clever hostess, Mrs. Oscar Walker, threw open the doors of her hospitable home in honor of the May Fair Chapter of the U. D. C. A delightful program was presented and sweet music dispensed by those artists, Mrs.
Dorothy and Miss Anna McChord.
After the business part of the meeting the guests enjoyed nature, rich with a store of the beautiful, from the melodies of the birds to the picturesque scenery that surrounds this ideal home. Refreshments were served in the confederate color scheme, red and white. Just as the sun was making golden hadders for the departing day to pass into other worlds. The guests reluctantly left for home but memories of the enjoyable afternoon will long be remembered.

Softly over the heart messages of love cling.
Fondly cluster those memories and thoughts of other days—spring, When Lee, Morgan, Jackson and those heroes who wore the gray.
Went out to serve their country in our own faithful way.
Time has taught us that the wounds of battle scars have been wiped away with tears and prayers.
Nothing left that mars.
The faithful daughters of the just Have built a shrine of love.
Watched over and protected by an entire hand above.
Their labor of love will continue, As long as time shall be.

The Washington County Tobacco Warehouse Company is capitalized at $20,000. Of this stock $7,000 has been subscribed and paid for, leaving $13,000 of unpaid stock in the treasury of the company. At a meeting of the Board of Directors recently held it was decided that in order to properly handle the tobacco contiguous to the Washington county market, either on sales or otherwise, it was necessary to construct an additional warehouse 90x208 feet, which is now under contract, and is being constructed on the company's ground near Springfield. In order to pay for this additional building and meet the floating debt of the company, amounting to about $13,500, it was determined by the Board of Directors to sell $8,000 more of the stock at not less than par, making the entire issue of stock $15,000.
As the construction of the tobacco plant was primarily to promote the interest of the tobacco growers, it is believed that the stock should be principally owned by tobacco growers, and that it should be widely distributed among them, and they should be allowed to subscribe for, and take a majority of the stock before those not engaged in growing tobacco should be allowed to subscribe for it.

To that end, stock subscription books are now opened at the office of the company in Springfield for the purpose of giving tobacco growers an opportunity to subscribe for the stock proposed to be issued, and will remain open until July 15th, for that purpose. At the end of that time, if growers have not subscribed for all the stock, persons not tobacco growers will be allowed to subscribe for the remainder.
